

CAPTION VIDEO QUIZ

Name _____

Use a T or and F in the blank in front of each statement to indicate whether it is true or false.

- _____ The caption should tell the reader only what they see in the picture.
- _____ It is a good problem to have when you write too much.
- _____ There might be times when you don't need a caption for a yearbook photo.
- _____ Of all the elements on a spread, captions are read the most.
- _____ You should do research in order to write your captions.

No need to answer in sentences, but make sure you answer the question completely.

How many sentences does the presenter suggest for a caption?

Describe the presenter's formula for each caption.

In what tense is the first sentence of the caption written?

In what tense is the second sentence of the caption written?

Which sentence is the most difficult for his students and why?

Can the order of his formula be alternated?

How does he describe each caption?

List three words you should not use as sentence/caption starters.

Finish this sentence: "Boring doesn't get _____."

How many photographs does the presenter suggest per spread?

What does the presenter mean when he says the yearbook process is a "marathon not a sprint"?

What are two pieces of information you learned about group photos?

What is something you learned that sparked an idea for your own yearbook? Be specific in your explanation of your idea.